Consumers National Bank Assigns Agricultural Loan Officer to its Hartville Branch

Minerva, Ohio—Consumers National Bank announced today that Becky Miller, AVP Agricultural Loan Officer, has been designated to cover the western parts of its market. Miller will be based out of the Bank’s Hartville location, a central hub from which she can best serve her clients. She will cover Stark, Portage, Summit, Wayne, Tuscarawas, and parts of the surrounding counties.

Throughout her educational and professional career, Miller has gained extensive knowledge and experience in several agriculture sectors including: poultry, dairy, cattle, swine, and grazing programs. She holds a BS in Agriculture from The Ohio State University, is a member of the Ohio Farm Bureau, and is an active 4-H volunteer in Portage County.

“Due to growing demand for our agricultural lending specialty across our entire market area, Consumers has decided to position Becky closer to her clients in the western markets,” said the Bank’s President and CEO Ralph J. Lober. “With Becky Miller stationed in Hartville, we will be better able to offer the surrounding farming communities personalized service that cannot be found elsewhere.”
