Consumers National Bank Celebrates National Ag Week With Free Agriculture Seminar

Minerva, Ohio—Consumers National Bank announced today that it is conducting its second annual free agriculture seminar on Wednesday, March 20, during National Ag Week.

Consumers National Bank's seminar will be held at Courtney's Banquet Center at 981 E. State Street, in Alliance, Ohio. The seminar will begin at 9:30 am and end at 2:30 pm. Complimentary buffet breakfast and lunch will be provided. The seminar is free and open to the agriculture community, however seating is limited.

The theme of Consumers National Bank's agriculture seminar is "Growing the Next Generation." Several local industry experts will present information on various agriculture topics. These will include crop insurance, farm management, AgrAbility, and more.

- Chris Bruynis, Ph.D., Assistant Professor, The Ohio State, will deliver a keynote speech entitled Growing the Next Generation
- Mark Thomas, Vice President, Thomas Farms and seven-time IHRA Alcohol Funny Car World Champion. Team Work Spells Success in Racing and Farming
- Kent McGuire, Ohio AgrAbility Program Coordinator. Quality Lifestyle for Farmers, Ranchers and Other Agricultural Workers with Disabilities
- Christopher Zoller, Extension Educator, Agriculture and Natural Resources, with The Ohio State University. Crop Insurance
- Becky Miller and Sarah Chronister, Agriculture Lenders at Consumers National Bank, will co-host the seminar.

Americans recognize and celebrate the abundance provided by agriculture during National Ag Week. Every year, producers, agricultural associations, corporations, universities, government agencies and countless others across the U.S. join together to recognize the contributions of agriculture.

Attendance to the seminars is free for the agriculture community, but seating is limited. Attendees should call Pat Wood at 330-868- 9053 or 800-948-1262, ext. 1153 to reserve a seat by Friday, March 15.
