Minerva, Ohio—Consumers National Bank announced today that it has expanded its Agricultural Lending Department with the appointment of Becky Miller as Assistant Agricultural Loan Officer. Miller, who holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture from The Ohio State University, has experience in agricultural related businesses, real estate, and small business management.

Prior to founding and running a professional landscaping firm with her husband, Miller worked as a Product Evaluation Analyst for New Holland North America, testing various pieces of farm equipment. She also held a Realtors license for ten years.

Throughout her educational and professional career, Miller has gained extensive knowledge and experience in several agriculture sectors including: poultry, dairy, cattle, swine, and grazing programs. She is a member of the Ohio Farm Bureau and an active 4-H volunteer in Portage County.

“Becky has a life-long interest in the important work of the agricultural community. We are pleased to add her experience to our lending department as we meet the needs of a vital segment of the local economy,” said Randy Gilroy, Vice President, Business Development Officer and Agricultural Lender. Becky will work with me to provide continued service to our existing agricultural portfolio and to increase our presence within that segment of the market,” he added.

“Consumers National Bank has a 46 year history of serving the agricultural community. Growing demand for this specialty lending necessitates an even stronger commitment from the Bank. Our relationships with local farmers are based on the trust they place in community banking. They turn to community banks for their banking needs because of the bond created over the years. With the addition of Becky, we hope to better serve our farming neighbors with personalized service not found elsewhere,” added the Bank’s President and CEO Ralph J. Lober.
