

Consumers National Bank To Open Jackson-Belden Office

Minerva, Ohio—Consumers National Bank announced today that it has completed the purchase of an office building at 4026 Dressler Road NW in Jackson Township. The 6,800 sq. ft. facility will initially house the bank’s mortgage department and a new Canton-based loan production office. A portion of the building is occupied by Jeff Mallette, DDS, whose practice will remain.

“The acquisition of the Jackson Township building is part of Consumers National Bank’s long-term strategic plan to provide a local community bank option in the Canton market area, said President and CEO, Ralph J. Lober, II.

“We currently have a significant customer base in the Canton area, and we have been hearing the call for a community bank alternative. Consumers is responding to the demand by providing current and potential customers with local access to the best community bank in Stark County,” said Lober.

“While Consumers National Bank will enter the market with a loan facility, we will gauge demand and expect to operate a full-service branch at the Jackson-Belden office at some point in the future,” added Lober.

Expanding west does not lessen the Bank's commitment to our existing markets. We continue to support current customers, business development and vital organizations in each branch market. These efforts will only get stronger. We are extending our reach west, but our roots remain in Carroll, Columbiana, and eastern Stark County.

A dedicated group of businessmen from Minerva, Ohio, worked tirelessly to realize their dream of an independent, community-focused bank. With five employees and assets of $300,000, the bank's first branch and corporate offices were opened in Minerva on September 7, 1965. As Consumers National Bank has grown over the years, it has not strayed from its roots. The mission today is consistent with the dream of its founders—to provide community-based banking services that make a difference in the communities the bank serves.
